

ELCA Domestic Disaster Response Spring 2008 U.S. Tornadoes

Spring 2008. By mid-May, the number of tornadoes had already surpassed the total number of tornadoes in 2007. The devastation has been widespread, with fatal tornadoes confirmed in 15 different states.

Over the Memorial Day weekend, more tornadoes struck. In Iowa, an F5-strength tornado near Parkersburg left nearly 300 homes completely destroyed. Those affected include members of Bethel Lutheran Church. In Minnesota, the town of Hugo has begun the recovery process; Lutheran Disaster Response will coordinate volunteers and partner with other organizations to provide case management services to those in need. In Colorado, efforts are underway in Windsor where over 100 homes and businesses were directly affected.

Even as ELCA Domestic Disaster Response efforts launch following recent tornadoes, these response strategies continue from previous storms this year in Arkansas, Georgia, Kansas, Mississippi, Missouri, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee, and Virginia. Disaster resources are already stretched thin by the unprecedented number and strength of tornadoes, just as hurricane season is about to begin.

Prayers and donations are urgently needed. Gifts to ELCA Domestic Disaster Response for "Tornadoes – United States" will be used in our immediate and long-term recovery efforts for these devastating storms.

Your gifts will be used in full—100 percent—to help these communities recover from tornadoes. Gifts to ELCA Domestic Disaster Response general offer help when and where needed most.
